BARRED OUT.

Sound Money Democratic Senators Not Allowed in the Democratic Caucus.

HEAVY WIND AND SLEET STORM IN NEW YORK.

General Weyler May Be Removed From Cuba.

SEVERE LAWS AGAINST ENLISTING TO AID THE CUBANS.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The silver Democratic senators have adopted resolutions blacklisting the sound money senators who supported Palmer and Buckner. The senators thus barred out of the Democratic caucus are Lindsay, of Kentucky, Gray, of Delaware, Caffery, of Louisiana, Palmer, of Illinois, and Vilas, of Wisconsin.

Toll Gate Investigation. Lawrenceburg, Ky., Dec. 16.—Judge Carroll is investigating the toll gate raids. He is determined to bring the guilty ones to justice. It is probable that the grand jury will return a number of indictments.

Heavy Storm in New York. New York, Dec. 16.—A terrific storm is raging here. The wind is blowing a furious gale. Eight inches of sleet and snow have fallen and all street car traffic is stopped. One man is reported frozen to death.

Al Berry Wants to Be Governor. Washington, Dec. 16.—Congressman Al Berry from Newport, Ky., is being discussed here as the next Democratic candidate for governor. He is said to be a strong probability.

Murderer Confesses. Seaside, Tenn., Dec. 16.—Marion Hatfield was hanged today for the murder of Jovial Trail. He confessed on the gallows that he was guilty.

Will Take a Recess. Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 16.—The court of appeals will in all probability adjourn Saturday until after the Christmas holidays. Most of the state officers will spend Christmas at their homes.

Mystery to Be Solved. Lexington, Dec. 16.—Dr. T. L. Collins, of Midway, has sent a lawyer to Boston to investigate the circumstances of May L. Collins' death and secure her diamonds, valued at $10,000.

WRITING A BOOK.

Alonso Walling Will Write Up His Awful Crime.

Covington, Ky., Dec. 16.—The commonwealth was given a tip a week ago that Walling was writing a book, and was fortunate enough to have the writer of the book to admit it in the presence of other prisoners, who also heard the full conversation.

The beginning of the book will contain his life as far back as he can remember, and that his downfall was brought on by wine and fast women. He will describe the murder of Pearl Bryan, and go on and show that Scott Jackson lost his head before determining to kill the woman. How he (Jackson) was bewildered on finding the condition she was in after the cocaine and ether had been administered, and how the head was severed from the body.

The driver to Ft. Thomas will be "And he will tell how he (Walling) was brought into the administration of morphine and everything pertaining to the murder, etc.

This much was ascertained and given to the reporter by a friend who heard Walling read it to a friend of his in his cell.

He has also told the same friend that he would not hang, and if he was that fellow to the right, meaning Jackson, was to blame for it, and that if he would come out and tell the truth he (Walling) would certainly not hang.

LAWYERS ON ENLISTMENT.

They Are Severe When One Wants to Help a Foreign People.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The attention of officials here has been attracted by the stories coming from portions of the country indicating that enlistment is going on of parties of men to go to Cuba to join the insurgents in their struggle against the Spaniards. These enlistments are in direct violation of the neutrality laws, and are prohibited under severe penalties. For accepting a commission to serve against Spain, a country with which the United States is now at peace, the penalty prescribed by section 5281, revised statutes, is $2,000 fine and three years' imprisonment, while for enlisting to serve against Spain or hiring any one to enlist, the penalty is almost as heavy, being a maximum of $1,000 fine and three years' imprisonment.

The government doubtless will be disposed to issue an order to manifest its opposition to the requirements of international law, just as it has the shipping interests against the heart in filibustering move-

GENERAL WEYLER

May Be "Sidelined" and Sent Home.

Madrid, Dec. 16.—According to surface indications, Capt. Gen. Weyler will soon be relieved of his command in Cuba. The discontent with Weyler is noticeable even in the government organs. They say that instead of going to Havana to receive an unmerited ovation he ought to have continued the military operations in the province of Pinar del Rio.

A bad impression has also been created here by the dispatches of the Spanish correspondents at Havana announcing that Gen. Weyler has suppressed all dispatches referring to the ovation in Spain in honor of Maj. Cirujuela. It is supposed the Captain General's action was due to jealousy, and it is currently reported that the government is disposed to replace Weyler by Gen. Marin, now governor of Porto Rico.

MAHAN ACQUITTED.

The Jury Said He Was Justified in Killing

Jim Watson, at Lolo, Livingston County, in '93.

John Mahan, who has been on trial in the Smithland circuit court for the murder of Jim Watson, at Lolo, Livingston county, was last night acquitted of the charge, after two days had been consumed in the trial.

The case was given to the jury at 6 o'clock last evening, and they were out but two hours. The verdict was brought in at 8 o'clock. Mahan seemed overjoyed, and shook hands with the jury and walked forth a free man. Public sympathy seemed to be with him and the reports that there was any suppressed excitement were false.

Mahan was captured a few weeks ago near Bardwell by Marshall Richardson, of Bardwell and Marshall McNutt, of Mayfield. There is now a controversy over the $300 reward offered by the state.

OFF FOR BALLARD.

Paducah Witnesses Will Evidently Go This Time.

They Leave Overland at 4 O'clock Tomorrow Morning.

Attorneys Johnson Houser and Jesse Gilbert and Messrs. George T. Harris and W. A. Wickliffe will leave in the morning in a surrey for Barlow City, Ballard county, to attend the trial of the Shelby and Taylor defendants, which was continued from the 9th. They were all arrested on attachments a few days ago and required to execute $100 bonds for their appearance tomorrow.

It appears that all Shelby wants to prove by them is that in Justice Winchester's court here about a year ago a man exposed an alleged conspiracy to murder Shelby.

MORE CHANGES.

Editor Lemon May Retire January 1.

Today Bought Back His Interest in the Lemon-Gregory Hat Company.

Editor J. R. Lemon, of the evening "Journal," has bought back his stock in the Lemon-Gregory Hat Company from Mr. N. S. Dilday, to whom it was transferred some time since, the deal being consummated today.

Mr. Lemon at present retains his stock in the Register Publishing Company, but it is rumored will go out by January 1st. He was today re-elected president of the Lemon-Gregory Hat Company.

Mr. N. J. Dilday, who leaves the hat company, has not yet decided what he will do in the future, but it is probable that he will not go back into the newspaper business, at present, in all events. There are very many vague rumors concerning newspaper deals, but they will not be definite until Jan. 1st.

Editor Lemon was seen by a SUN reporter this morning and stated that he would not abandon the newspaper business, but will remain in his present capacity for all time to come, so far as he knows.

POWER OF ENDURANCE.

Something of a Man Who Had His Leg Amputated.

Ed Schneider, of near St. town, Ill., who had one of his legs amputated at the hip yesterday, at Dr. Brooks' office, is doing well, and is able to move about. He has been in this country but a year, but can read and write and talk English. His power of endurance is remarkable, according to the attending physicians.

PECULIAR JURY.

Thinks Jeff Tucker Deserved Two Years.

But It Gave Him One Because the Lawyers "Tried" the Case Themselves.

Sometimes it is to the interest of a criminal to plead guilty. An instance of this kind was witnessed in the circuit court yesterday.

Jeff Tucker was charged with stealing the big bell formerly on the towboat "Time," which burned here about two years ago, from Johnson's foundry.

The commonwealth's attorney agreed to let him off with one year if he would plead guilty, and to this the defendant's attorney assented.

The jury was called, but through an oversight the agreement of the attorneys was not communicated to them.

They retired, and when they returned with a verdict it was for two years. Explanations followed and Judge Bishop sent the jury back. The second time it fixed the term at one year, although it was evident that the jury thought the defendant should have two.

$3,000 DAMAGES.

Suit Filed Against the People's Street Railway.

Mr. S. H. Clark the Plaintiff in the Case.

Mr. S. H. Clark, the well known grocer and commission merchant this afternoon filed suit in the circuit court against the People's Street Railway Company for $3,000 damages.

The plaintiff alleges that he was riding along in a wagon with Mr. Mel Byrd a few months since when a car of the defendant came up from behind and struck the wagon, throwing the plaintiff out and inflicting injuries that laid him up for two months and occasioned him much suffering and great expense. He alleges that this was all due to the carelessness and recklessness of the defendants, and asks for $3,000 damages.

THIGH BROKEN.

Painful Accident That Befell Annie Sims.

Fell on the Porch—Fire Victims are Getting Better.

Annie, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. Sims, who resides near Seventh and Monroe, was playing on the porch at home yesterday.

While skipping about she tripped and fell breaking her right thigh.

Dr. T. E. White was called, and thinks the case is quite remarkable. The fall was not violent, and happened on a smooth surface.

The little patient is resting easy today.

Mrs. Malloure and her grandson, George Hannon, are improving from the powder burns received Sunday night at their home on Campbell street.

CAME TO TOWN

And Got Fined a Five the First Thing.

William McGlenery, of Woodville, Was Drunk This Morning.

Wm. McGlenery, a well known man of Woodville, came to the city yesterday and this morning was hilariously happy.

He went to the office of the Paducah Building Trust Company and there made an improper exposure of himself, in the presence of several people. Officer Wheeler arrested him, and he employed Attorney Jesse Gilbert to defend him, but finally pleaded guilty.

He was fined $5 and costs, and seemed to get drunker and drunker. He subsequently said he didn't know what he was charged with, but wanted to fight it, whatever it was. He was put where he could sober up.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Little is Being Done at Today's Session.

There has been little done in the circuit court today.

The case against Jim Alexander, charged with being an accessory to the theft of the Time's bell, was tried and the arguments heard this afternoon.

MAJOR HARRIS WAS APPOINTED FOR THE DEFENDANT IN THE TWO LATTER CASES.

Mr. W. A. Wickliffe will be excused from the grand jury this afternoon.

Alexander was acquitted this afternoon, and the case against Gallagher taken up.

ANNOYED BY TRAMPS.

Mr. G. P. Husbands Complains to the Police.

Mr. G. P. Husbands, who lives north of the city, today complained at police headquarters of the tramps, who, he claims, annoy him a great deal at night sleeping in his out-houses and imperiling his stock and property.

He threatens to get a thickly settled shot gun and use it with good effect on the miscreants.

The police will hereafter raid the tramps and endeavor to keep the city clear of them.

FOR CUBA.

Mass Meeting of Cuban Sympathizers.

Will be Held at [the City Hall Tomorrow Night—A Large Crowd Will be Out.

A meeting of Cuban sympathizers will be held tomorrow night at the city hall to express the feeling of the citizens of Paducah upon the brutal assassination of General Maceo. This meeting has been called by the old soldiers both confederate and federal veterans alike, and by the young men. It is a question that appeals alike to those who wore the blue and the grey; to the old and the young. It is the one question that is today uppermost in the minds of Americans, and is the most important problem confronting congress.

It is expected that a large attendance will be present, and many able speakers.

BADLY IN NEED.

Mrs. Lizzie Jones and Three Children in the City.

Came From Covington, Tennessee, to Find Homes for the Family.

Mrs. Lizzie Jones, relict of James Jones, who died at Covington, Tenn., three months ago, was at the city hall today seeking a home for herself and three children.

She is without means, but says she is willing to work. She has a child only a few months old, the other two girls being eight and ten years old respectively. She claims she desires to place her girls in some industrial school where they can take care of themselves, and is of the opinion that she could then support herself and baby. She has no relatives who will assist her.

THE MILLIGEN CASE.

Attorney Kahn Goes Up to Eddyville Again.

Attorney Oscar Kahn went up to Eddyville this morning to make final arrangements for having Francis Millegan, who was sentenced to life for killing his wife, tried for lunacy.

The case was set down for last Friday, but postponed on account of more important business. Attorney Kahn is confident of having his client adjudged insane.

Millegan, in the opinion of all who know him, was always believed to be insane, and his heinous crime was believed to have been prompted by a temporary frenzy.

NO BOND YET.

Town Marshal Phil Lynn Still in Jail.

Town Marshal Phil Lynn, of Brooklyn, Ill., has not yet succeeded in giving the $5,000 bond required of him. His case will be tried at Mound City instead of Metropolis.

John Lemley and Bart and Ed. Lynn have been taken to the penitentiary to serve their long sentences.

The $3.00 toy sewing machine at Noah's Ark does excellent work. They are selling very fast; we have a few of them left.

MARKETS.

(Reported Daily by Lacy Grain Company.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—May wheat opened at 80½ to 80½; its highest point was 81½ and closed at 79½, selling.

May corn opened at 25½-¾ and closed at 25½ b.

May oats opened at 20½, and closed at 20 b.

January pork opened at $7.67 b. and closed at $7.65.

TROUBLESOME TRAMPS.

Three Released Yesterday and Arrested Later.

Fined $20 for Being Drunk and Disorderly Today.

Chas Thompson and G. W. Martin, two tramps, who were released from the county jail yesterday, were presented in the police court this morning on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

The two mentioned above, and Ed Stetson, alias "Denver Red," had been in confinement for nearly a year on a charge of highway robbery. They were tramps and were arrested for robbing a tramp from Louisville of $1 near a box car. The tramp came back last April to attend court, but was induced to leave and not testify by another tramp who had served a sentence for carrying a razor, and was a "pal" of the three robbers.

He could never be found afterwards, and it was heard that he was in Lyon county, but the subpoena was returned marked "not found." As there was no prospect of ever finding him the commonwealth yesterday dismissed the case.

Thompson and Martin proceeded to imbibes in celebration of their release, and about dark went to Cal Waggoner's saloon and stole a man's walking stick. He overtook them and compelled them to return it. They were afterwards arrested and this morning were fined $20 and costs by Judge Sanders. Stetson has disappeared and it is understood is wanted in Owensboro for house-breaking.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS.

Mr. Gladstone is disappointed at the small sale of his edition of Bishop Butler, only 2,000 copies having been sold.

The present Czar cultivates his tenor voice when he has time; his father played the trombone, and his great-grandfather whistled.

Sir Arthur Sullivan can now command $3,500 down for one song, while from "The Lost Chord" alone it is said that he realized over $50,000.

Princess Elizabeth, widow of Prince Leopold of Lippe, is dead at Detmold. She was born Princess of Schwarzburg-Kadolstadt, and was 63 years of age.

The Duke and Duchess of Fife are at the present moment among the richest of the younger members of the Queen's family, for the Duke is credited with a private income of $400,000 a year.

A monument in memory of Father Secchi, the former director of the Collegio Romano Observatory, has been erected at Reggio (Emilia), where he was born. The sum of 75,000 francs was publicly subscribed for the purpose.

In a speech at Aberdeen General Booth said he was thinking of a scheme of universal emigration by which men could be passed from one part of the world to another and surplus labor brought to places where it was wanted.

"Gentlemen," ejaculated Mrs. Hetty Green in a New York street car the other day, "are you aware that the election is over? There is time for all things, politics included. I wish you would stop talking politics until you get home. I am not deaf, and you make me nervous."

The Washington Post says: Rutherford Platt Hayes, youngest son of the late President Hayes, who was in the city during the last week, is even less of a politician than was his father, and his testimony before the joint committee on library, for which purpose he came to Washington, shows that his tastes are for literary rather than for public life.

Tom Cane, chairman of the Republican state central committee of Louisiana, died in New Orleans a few days ago, aged 55. Cane was a negro and a native of Louisiana, and had been a power in Louisiana politics ever since emancipation. He was elected state senator in 1868, and served eight years; was then sheriff of his parish. Terrebonne, for four years; representative for another four years, and again senator for four. He also held the office of tax collector and member of the school board. In 1893 he was elected chairman of the Republican state central committee. In conjunction with ex-Governor Kellogg he succeeded in capturing the majority of the Louisiana Republican state convention for Reed for president, and he went as one of the delegates-at-large to the St. Louis convention, and voted for Reed all the time.

A CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE.

A resolution has been introduced in congress lengthening the terms of the president and the senators to eight years, and of congressmen to four years. The change will require the adoption of a constitutional amendment and it is doubtful if the resolution is adopted at this session.
While the change contemplated is a most radical one, it yet has many things to recommend its incorporation into our national constitution, and will find many ardent advocates.
The American people are very rapidly arriving at the conclusion that we have too many elections; that political agitation takes up much more time than is well for the nation's best interests. A presidential year is almost always one of suspense and uncertainty. Investors and capitalists become cautious as campaign time draws near, and all branches of business becomes more or less depressed.

The principle of the referendum has been practically introduced into American politics; and great economic questions, usually in other countries left to the government to decide, are very often submitted to the people in advance of decisive action by congress, not by a resolution of congress, but by the wording of nations party platforms. Hence every congressional and presidential election possesses important issues having to do directly with the finances of the government. Until this country adopts free trade, or as long as revenue tariffs are laid with any view at all to protection, just so long will the material prosperity of this country be affected by tariff legislation. The tariff and other abstruse questions are discussed and voted on by the people every two years and every four years the battle is bitterly fought along the whole line. The result is that manufacturers hardly get well to working under one tariff before a change in the schedule may be made and great injury may be done them.
There are many practical business men who believe that any tariff schedule is a good one that may be made permanent; for the resources of this country are so vast and the people so recuperative that they can adjust themselves to any order of things and can prosper if they be let alone. The time has come when the starting of a new manufacturing business requires large amounts of capital and consequently confidence in the perpetuity of the conditions that cause the business establishment; confidence is needed that the government's policy will not be wholly changed at every election.

The probability or possibility of a change goes with every election. If however the elections are put further apart, as is contemplated by the above resolution then these frequent changes can not take place; capital will have a longer time in which to develop its business, and the people will only lose one year in eight while now practically one in four is paral-yzed by election excitement and its attendant fears.

A HISTORICAL PARALLEL.

President Cleveland has gone duck hunting. His present trip calls to mind a similar one made about a year ago. The whole story is this:
On December 10, 1895, Senator Cullom made a powerful speech in the United States senate on the application of the American policy as embodied in the Monroe doctrine to the Venezuelan boundary controversy. That speech met the marked approval of the president. A few days afterward Cleveland went duck hunting, and in his famous speech on the 15th of December he referred to the speech of Senator Cullom.

lomatic victory that has been gained,
are well known.
On December 10, 1896, just one year after the speech on the Venezuelan question, Senator Cullom made another speech. This time on the Cuban question. The speech has found an echo in every part of this country. President Cleveland has again gone hunting. Thus far the parallel holds good. Will the president, however, make it complete throughout by returning, and in a message to congress, sound the death knell of Spanish tyranny in Cuba.
We shall see.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

The "Home News," London, commenting on the woman suffrage bill now before the legislature of Victoria, says: The steady growth of the movement in the Anglo-Saxon world beyond the seas is the most encouraging sign of the times for those who urge Woman's claim to a voice in the nation's affairs. So far as we on this side can see, the influence of woman suffrage in those colonies which have already adopted it has been to leave matters pretty much where they were, with perhaps a tendency to improve the tone of the constitution.

A BILL has been introduced in congress raising the salaries of congressmen from $5000 to $7500 per annum. It is not probable that the bill will become a law as it savors too much of a salary grab to be a popular measure. The United States ought, however, to increase the salaries of its representatives to foreign countries. The largest salary paid to American ambassadors is $17,500, out of which must come house rent and all the expenses of keeping up an establishment proportional to the dignity of this country. The salary should be sufficient so that men of moderate means could accept the foreign ministerial positions; as it now is none but men of wealth can afford to represent this nation at a foreign court.

JANUARY ninth, Jackson day, will be the date of many important political gatherings. In Chicago W.
J. Bryan will address the members of the Jackson Democratic club on the issues of the day as he sees them. It seems to be the desperate determination of silverites to demonstrate that Bryanism is the lineal descendant of Jacksonian Democracy. In Kentucky several conventions of sound money Democrats will be held for the purpose of continuing the fight for national financial honor.
Each day the breach becomes wider between the sound money Democrats and the Repudiationists.

The new silver Democratic daily at Louisville has been named. This act of selecting a name and giving it to the public while the affairs of the new enterprise are in a state of hopeless chaos sounds something like a bluff. But it may be intended as an evidence of good faith. The name has been selected, the editor chosen, but the seven thousand dollars that will be needed to grease its running gear have not yet materialized.

GOVERNOR BRADLEY'S time is all occupied by considering petitions for pardons and petitions for an extra session of the legislature.

Co-operative Railroad.

From the Atlanta Constitution.
In 1893 the president of the Illinois railway company learned that many of his employees desired to become stockholders if satisfactory arrangements could be made. He sent a circular to all the men in the service of the company stating that any employee of the road might pay $5 or more on installments at such times as might be convenient. All sums paid in were to receive 4 per cent. interest, until the amount should be sufficient to pay for a share of stock, when the proper transfer on the books of the company would be made, and the employee would receive the certificate. The payer could, at any time, claim his money, principal and interest, and draw it upon proper application. This plan has been in operation three years, and it appears to have worked admirably. It is stated that 700 applicants for shares are enrolled on the company's books on which payments are being made.
This is the first time that a scheme of co-operation in ownership has been tried by a railroad company.

From the Louisville Post.

Illinois Central railroad officials at Chicago have before them the applications of 1,500 employees of that road who desire to purchase the company's stock. These applications are coming in at the rate of between 250 and 300 a month, and indicate a strong desire on the part of the working force of the road to be in full harmony with the executive departments. The company employs 22, 000 men. More than one-fourth of the employees of the company are now stockholders, and it is thought, one-half will soon be enrolled. In the success of the plan of making the employees financially interested with the executives it is believed the company has taken a formal step in the direction of solving the strike problem and showing laboring classes the value of economy.

Stuyvesant Fish, the president of the company, is the author of the plan, which no other railroad has adopted, although its success has been proved, after months of experiment. Large manufacturing concern and other corporate interests are addressing the Illinois Central for information as to how the scheme may be adopted, and if it can be applied

English Labor Leaders.

An English newspaper correspondent points out a striking difference between the labor leaders of England and those of the continent. The English leader are for the most part religious men, and some of them are outspoken Christians. Tom Burt and Henry Broadhurst are good Methodists. Joseph Arch, the Moses of agricultural laborers, was a Methodist local preacher. So was Fenwick, member of parliament for the Wansbeck mines, who preached a notable sermon on the need of religious character in the labor movement. Sam Woods, the chief man in the Miners' Federation, frequently occupies the pulpit. Keir Hardie, the leader of the Independent Labor party, is an Evangelical Union man and a Christian preacher. Tom Mann had thoughts not long ago of entering the ministry of the Church of England. Ben Tillett is a Congregationalist, and was a speaker at the Congregational council a few years ago.

A Populist For Protection.

From the Inter-Mountain Advocate (Pop.)
Salt Lake City.
It may sound a little funny to hear us say that we believe the proper thing for Populist Congressmen to do is to stand by President McKinley on his tariff propositions and to vote as far as they can in the direction of putting the country on the tariff basis as laid down by the Republican party. We have good reasons for so doing. The country said by its last vote that the tariff is the issue, and that the only remedy for the country is protection. Of course it is not true, but the people believe it is, and will continue to think so until they see it tried. It cannot be tried if the Populists stand in the way. We believe it should have a full and impartial trial.

Another 16 to 1.

From the New York Church Union.
Although the election is over, the great 16 to 1 issue is settled. Sixteen gallons to every one of its 70,000,000 of inhabitants is the annual consumption of intoxicating liquors in the United States.

TO FIGHT FOR CUBA.

One Thousand Men Said to be Ready to Leave New Orleans.

Treacherous Butchery of General Maceo Has Aroused the United States.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 16.—The Cuban patriots are to be greeted soon by allies from the great Mississippi Valley. A regiment 1,000 strong will leave New Orleans Friday for the island.
Two hundred of these men are St.
Louisans, the others come from East St. Louis and other points on the Illinois Central and Iron Mountain Railroads.

They say they have an instrument of death that will play havoc with Weyler's troops. Whirling iron slings and bullets are packed in it, and they are discharged at a terrific speed clearing a space 200 feet in width and 150 feet in length before them.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 16.—An office has been opened under the auspices of the Cuban Junta in this city, at No. 111½ East Washington street, in charge of Dr. I. E. Wright and Dr. Costello. Dr. Wright has been appointed a surgeon in the Cuban army, with the rank of Colonel.
He has obtained about seventy recruits and expects to get 200 before he starts with them the latter part of next week.

The pay for infantrymen and cavalrymen is $22 per month, and that for artillerymen is $27 per month.
Each man will be credited with three months pay in advance, out of which his expenses to Cuba will be taken.
Our party will leave here next week,
going as individuals to Key West, where we will be taken across to Cuba.

The mail of Gov. Matthews has, within the past week, contained a great many letters from veterans of the late war, offering their services in case there should be trouble with Spain. He declares today that if a call for recruits should ever become necessary, he believed that 75 per cent. of the Grand Army men would respond.

Ottumwa, Io., Dec. 16.—The local militia company passed the following resolutions:
Whereas, In view of the recent report of the assassination of General Maceo, commander of the Cuban troops, by the Spaniards, while under the protection of a flag of truce;
and

Whereas, A flag of truce has always been recognized as held sacred by civilized nations as a protection during communication between warring parties; therefore be it Resolved, By the members of Company G, Iowa National Guard,
That we deprecate the action of the Spanish army in assassinating General Maceo; and be it further Resolved, That we pledge ourselves to uphold any action taken by the United States government, and we volunteer our services, if necessary to resort to arms to uphold such action.

Denver Raising a Regiment.
Denver, Colo., Dec. 14.—It is claimed by the leaders in the movement to send troops from Colorado to fight for Cuban independence that more than 1,000 names have already been enrolled.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 16.—A fair, the proceeds of which will be used to help the Cuban insurgents, will be held in this city in February. Its patrons and patronesses will include some of the most prominent society people, clergymen, and philanthropists.

EVENING OF PLEASURE.

Polk Miller Entertains a Large Crowd at Morton's.

A large and highly delighted audience left Morton's opera house last night, after having been entertained for two hours by Polk Miller, of Virginia, in his "Evening of Song and Story." His only object is to delicate the character of old time darkies, and in this he admirably succeeds.

From the humorous to the pathetic is but a step, and the distance is often covered by the versatile entertainer with a negro dialect song.
Mr. Miller kept his audience in a constant smile—except when he related his stories of a pathetic nature. The public is justly indebted to the ladies of the First Christian church for securing him.

SELF-DEVELOPMENT.
Borrow and the Ministry of Pain Often Perfects the Character.
It is the misfortune of young people before they become fully engaged in the relations of life and business, that they look too much to acquaintances for encouragement, and make the acquaintance which their associates furnish too indispensable. The tender mind of youth is reluctant, or unable to stand alone; it needs to be one of a class. Hence the hours that ought to be spent in the acquisition of that general knowledge which is so useful in after life, and which can be acquired only in youth, are thrown away in the most inglorious pursuits, for acquaintances are seldom the companions of study or the auxiliaries of business. Lectures that are not followed up by their appropriate action have a tendency to decrease and perish. Thus soft-hearted tendency and ready sympathy, if allowed to expend themselves without producing any practical effort to relieve suffering or to give happiness, grow feeble and feeble until they degenerate into a puerile self-pity which make even cruelty and injustice possible. Manners have been cynically defined as a thing by which wise men keep fools at a distance. Fashion is shrewd to detect those who do not belong to her train; and seldom wastes her attentions. Society is very swift in its instincts, and if you do not belong to it, resist and sneers at you, or quietly drops you. Accordingly, the conditions and surroundings of life are largely what we make them. This is the case, first of all, through our direct influence. We are raised or lowered by our associations. Men are generally alike in their lower nature; it is in the higher character that they differ. Manners, temper, intellect and morals are all directly influenced by our surroundings, and those who choose for themselves friends of an inferior caste—whether of mind or manners, of morals or of conduct—fall to the level of their choice. As a general thing we reap that which we have sown. But where it is not so, where circumstances over which we have no control come in, the form of trials or joys, even these are greatly modified by the spirit in which they are received. Who has not seen poverty or bereavement borne so heroically and cheerfully that the afflicted one seemed rather an object of envy than of compassion? On the other hand, who has not seen one with every outward advantage that earth has to bestow, rendering himself and others miserable by fretful complaints of troubles too petty to deserve a moment's notice? There are millions of human beings who, but for suffering, would never have developed an atom of affection, and though it never reaches more honor, is worthy of the highest. One thing we should always remember, that our greatest glory is not in never failing, but in rising every time we do fail.—Stillwater Prison Mirror.

DANGEROUS FUNNEL TRICK.
Veteran Club Man Tried It Twice Before Getting Caught.
The funnel trick is an ingenious practical joke recently introduced in the London clubs. An old gentleman, whom we will call Jeremiah Brown, was victimized by it recently. He sauntered up to the club the other day and saw two or three of the younger members attempting a new feat and he watched them with interest. One of them stuck a funnel in the top of his trousers, threw his head back, placed a shilling on his forehead and tried to drop it in the funnel by slowly raising his head. After all had failed Jerry insisted on trying it, though all tried to persuade him from attempting a feat too difficult for them. The funnel was placed in the waistband of his trousers and he threw back his head to receive the coin on his expansive brow. At that juncture a jug of water was emptied into the funnel, and by the time Jerry had finished dancing the jokers had vanished. Jerry's temper improved with dry rum, and the next night at the club he started in to show a couple of friends the funnel trick. "It's this way," he explained; "you put the funnel in, so, then throw your head back, so, and—wow!" Again Jerry was forced to change his raiment, and he is not showing people what he knows about the funnel trick.—London Telegraph.

The Clover Leaf Design.
Clover blossoms and leaves are much the fashion, both in art needlework and painted on china. When used in needlework they are laid on the linen where they are to be embroidered, with the long stems overlapping each other, so that they form a clove. The flowers may be worked in white with touches of pale green, in pale pink and white, or may be of white shading into a pinkish purple. Charming and suitable borders to the centerpieces, tea-cloths and doilies, decorated with clover blossoms and leaves, have a trefoil edge, consisting of a repeat of three clovers that are conventionalized clover leaves.—N. Y. Tept.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.
—When a New Hampshire man wants to get a wood pile moved, he tells the boys that he has a rabbit run under it. If we had to wait until a woman lifted her veil in order to kiss her, we would lose all appetite, and wouldn't kiss her at all.—Acheson Globe.

—Playwright—"What do you think of my new tragedy?" Critic—"I think it would be better if you condensed the five acts into one and then took the point of it and printed it as a joke in a comic paper."—Fliegende Blätter.

—"Do you think," said the young man who has gone into politics, "that a man in my position can afford to be indifferent to public opinion?" "I don't know," said Senator Sorghum, thoughtfully; "how much is your private income?"—Washington Star.

—Coroner—"Is this man whom you found dead on the railroad track a total stranger?" Witness (who had been told by the company to be careful in his statements)—"No, sir. His leg was gone entirely. He was a partial stranger."—Texas Sittings.

—"Benison, you know, went to Africa, and there met his death." "Poor fellow! But his body was brought home and given a decent burial, wasn't it?" "Well, they hanged the cannibal, and then brought home his body and buried it."—Philadelphia North American.

—"I intend to preach a sermon upon football next Sabbath," said the tall caller in the white frock; "and I shall be pleased to furnish you with the manuscript, if you wish to use it. I know a number of your readers would be glad to see it in print." "All right," said the busy editor; "you will have to get it here early, though. Our sporting page is the first to close."—

COLUMBIAN CLUB.
Meeting of Unusual Interest Last Night.
The Columbian Club met in regular session at Cecilian Hall last night. The following interesting program was presented and enjoyed by a large audience:
Select reading—Mr. Farley.
Vocal solo—Mr. Huxton.
Instrumental duet—Misses J. Gies and Isabel Mohan.
Recitation—Mr. Carey.
Vocal solo with violin and piano accompaniment—Misses Maud Brent, Gertrude Brent and Mamie O'Brien.
Reading of the Columbian director, the journal of the club—Mr. Grouse.
Vocal solo—Miss Maud Brent.

Every number was cleverly rendered and all present pronounced the meeting one of the most successful of the winter series. Miss Brent's magnificent singing added materially to the pleasure of the evening. Her voice is wonderfully sweet, clear and powerful.
Gifted by nature to a remarkable degree with every evidence of artistic training, to hear her is a treat long to be remembered. In elocutionary powers as demonstrated last evening, she seemed capable of almost exciting even her own immediate rendition of vocal harmonies. The club hoped to have the pleasure of hearing her again before her departure for her home in the capital of the Buckeye state.

MARRIED AT MAYFIELD.
Cousins From Missouri Can't Get A License Here.
Mr. C. J. Witte, aged 26, and Miss Annie Lammers, aged 20, who are cousins, arrived yesterday afternoon from St. Louis and went to the county court house. The young lady was not of age, however, and had no written consent of parents or guardian. They left without a license and went to Mayfield, where they were married at 9 o'clock last night by County Judge Lee. Today they returned to St. Louis.
Mr. Witte and bride were today the guests of Lockup Keeper Harry Kellar.

Stole a Skiff.
Earl Ferguson, of Paducah, and John Butler, of Keokuk, Ky., says the Metropolis "Journal," stole a skiff at Paducah yesterday and came to this city. They made an unsuccessful effort to sell the craft, at supper at the State Hotel, went to church last night and left town on a freight car for St. Louis. Marshal Crough recovered the skiff, but did not learn of the theft in time to get them.

Borrow and the Ministry of Pain Often Perfects the Character.
It is the misfortune of young people before they become fully engaged in the relations of life and business, that they look too much to acquaintances for encouragement, and make the acquaintance which their associates furnish too indispensable. The tender mind of youth is reluctant, or unable to stand alone; it needs to be one of a class. Hence the hours that ought to be spent in the acquisition of that general knowledge which is so useful in after life, and which can be acquired only in youth, are thrown away in the most inglorious pursuits, for acquaintances are seldom the companions of study or the auxiliaries of business. Lectures that are not followed up by their appropriate action have a tendency to decrease and perish. Thus soft-hearted tendency and ready sympathy, if allowed to expend themselves without producing any practical effort to relieve suffering or to give happiness, grow feeble and feeble until they degenerate into a puerile self-pity which make even cruelty and injustice possible. Manners have been cynically defined as a thing by which wise men keep fools at a distance. Fashion is shrewd to detect those who do not belong to her train; and seldom wastes her attentions. Society is very swift in its instincts, and if you do not belong to it, resist and sneers at you, or quietly drops you. Accordingly, the conditions and surroundings of life are largely what we make them. This is the case, first of all, through our direct influence. We are raised or lowered by our associations. Men are generally alike in their lower nature; it is in the higher character that they differ. Manners, temper, intellect and morals are all directly influenced by our surroundings, and those who choose for themselves friends of an inferior caste—whether of mind or manners, of morals or of conduct—fall to the level of their choice. As a general thing we reap that which we have sown. But where it is not so, where circumstances over which we have no control come in, the form of trials or joys, even these are greatly modified by the spirit in which they are received. Who has not seen poverty or bereavement borne so heroically and cheerfully that the afflicted one seemed rather an object of envy than of compassion? On the other hand, who has not seen one with every outward advantage that earth has to bestow, rendering himself and others miserable by fretful complaints of troubles too petty to deserve a moment's notice? There are millions of human beings who, but for suffering, would never have developed an atom of affection, and though it never reaches more honor, is worthy of the highest. One thing we should always remember, that our greatest glory is not in never failing, but in rising every time we do fail.—Stillwater Prison Mirror.

Veteran Club Man Tried It Twice Before Getting Caught.
The funnel trick is an ingenious practical joke recently introduced in the London clubs. An old gentleman, whom we will call Jeremiah Brown, was victimized by it recently. He sauntered up to the club the other day and saw two or three of the younger members attempting a new feat and he watched them with interest. One of them stuck a funnel in the top of his trousers, threw his head back, placed a shilling on his forehead and tried to drop it in the funnel by slowly raising his head. After all had failed Jerry insisted on trying it, though all tried to persuade him from attempting a feat too difficult for them. The funnel was placed in the waistband of his trousers and he threw back his head to receive the coin on his expansive brow. At that juncture a jug of water was emptied into the funnel, and by the time Jerry had finished dancing the jokers had vanished. Jerry's temper improved with dry rum, and the next night at the club he started in to show a couple of friends the funnel trick. "It's this way," he explained; "you put the funnel in, so, then throw your head back, so, and—wow!" Again Jerry was forced to change his raiment, and he is not showing people what he knows about the funnel trick.—London Telegraph.

The Clover Leaf Design.
Clover blossoms and leaves are much the fashion, both in art needlework and painted on china. When used in needlework they are laid on the linen where they are to be embroidered, with the long stems overlapping each other, so that they form a clove. The flowers may be worked in white with touches of pale green, in pale pink and white, or may be of white shading into a pinkish purple. Charming and suitable borders to the centerpieces, tea-cloths and doilies, decorated with clover blossoms and leaves, have a trefoil edge, consisting of a repeat of three clovers that are conventionalized clover leaves.—N. Y. Tept.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.
—When a New Hampshire man wants to get a wood pile moved, he tells the boys that he has a rabbit run under it. If we had to wait until a woman lifted her veil in order to kiss her, we would lose all appetite, and wouldn't kiss her at all.—Acheson Globe.

—Playwright—"What do you think of my new tragedy?" Critic—"I think it would be better if you condensed the five acts into one and then took the point of it and printed it as a joke in a comic paper."—Fliegende Blätter.

—"Do you think," said the young man who has gone into politics, "that a man in my position can afford to be indifferent to public opinion?" "I don't know," said Senator Sorghum, thoughtfully; "how much is your private income?"—Washington Star.

—Coroner—"Is this man whom you found dead on the railroad track a total stranger?" Witness (who had been told by the company to be careful in his statements)—"No, sir. His leg was gone entirely. He was a partial stranger."—Texas Sittings.

—"Benison, you know, went to Africa, and there met his death." "Poor fellow! But his body was brought home and given a decent burial, wasn't it?" "Well, they hanged the cannibal, and then brought home his body and buried it."—Philadelphia North American.

—"I intend to preach a sermon upon football next Sabbath," said the tall caller in the white frock; "and I shall be pleased to furnish you with the manuscript, if you wish to use it. I know a number of your readers would be glad to see it in print." "All right," said the busy editor; "you will have to get it here early, though. Our sporting page is the first to close."—
